Is Arranged for Italy

ROME, July 29 (By The Associated Press).—Signor Rolandi-Ricci, Italian Ambassador to the United States, who yesterday told Signor de Facta, the acting Premier, that he had arranged an Italian loan in the United States for $200,000,000, discussed with him to-day the question of the readjustment of the Allied debt, particularly Italy's debt to America. Signor Rolandi-Ricci suggested postponing the sending to America of an Italian commission on readjustment, which he was to have headed, because of Italy's internal situation and because British, French and Italian commissions may discuss this question about the end of the year.

The Italian Ambassador also dis-

The Italian Ambassador also dis-cussed the Italian emigration question, and said that if Italy's quota was based on the census of 1920, 30,000 more Italians could enter America yearly. It was announced that an exchange of notes is occurring between the Foreign Ministry and the State Department.

rectly, to walk with that graceful freedom which should be every woman's habit, and what a comfort it is to be free from foot weariness. In Cantilever Shoes the foot assumes a natural, barefoot position. There is no part that suffers any strain, pinching or other discom-fort. Every muscle, ligament and joint can exercise normally and freely, yet at the same time they receive the restful support so necessary to the strenuous life we
